Creator Bio

Justin Evans is the creator, writer, producer, and performer behind The Blood & Moone Files. He voices Chandler Blood and Dog-Boy Dan, and built the series around a love of monster stories, hidden-world fiction, dark humor, and the specific texture of East Tennessee life.

Set in fictional Lenor County, Tennessee, the show grew out of Justin's interest in telling supernatural stories that still feel grounded in real places: garages, diners, trailer parks, backroads, old woods, and the kind of people who survive by joking through the worst day of their lives.
